TUSTIN POLICE DEPARTMENT SEEKING CITIZENS TO JOIN COMMUNITY POLICING ADVISORY BOARD

TUSTIN, Calif. – The Tustin Police Department is seeking individuals to volunteer to join the Citizen’s Policing Advisory Board. Interested citizens should live and/or work in Tustin and have the desire to make their community stronger by participating in making policies will positively affect the community. The committee will meet every other month to discuss crime trends, property crimes, and quality of life issues. Committee members will be able to provide advisory input as to how crimes and trends should be addressed.

“Civic participation makes for a strong community foundation which increases the sense of community in a City,” said Lt. Steve Lewis. “Through the input of volunteers at the grassroots level, we will be able to identify crime, trends, problems, and areas that need to be addressed before the Police Department would identify otherwise. This will be an effective tool for us to maintain the excellent quality of life Tustin resident’s experience.”

Those interested should contact Lieutenant Charlie Celano (714) 573-3392.
